The mailing of said notice by the Director shall be deemed sufficient notice for purposes of this Article.

(b) The owner of any residential rental dwelling unit located within an inspection district shall notify the Department in writing no later than 60 days following the date of the notice referred to in paragraph (a) above that said property is a residential rental dwelling unit. If the unit to be inspected is occupied at the time of a required inspection, it shall be the duty of the owner to notify the occupants of such inspection and make the residential rental dwelling unit available for inspection.
- (b) No annual inspection pursuant to this article shall take place more than one time each year, calculated from the date of the first inspection, regardless of whether additional inspections are necessary to achieve compliance. However, nothing in this Article shall modify the authority of the Director to conduct any other inspections, as allowed under the provisions of the Virginia Uniform Statewide Building Code, and inspections for obtaining a certificate of compliance under this Article do not supplant or preclude any other inspection authorized under the Virginia Uniform Statewide Building Code.
- (c) Should the owner fail to contact the Department within the required time in order to schedule any inspection required under this Article, or should such owner fail to allow such inspection to proceed on the date for which it was scheduled, the owner shall be in violation of this Article and shall be subject to such penalties and enforcement remedies as provided in section 9-268 below.
- (d) The initial inspection of each residential rental dwelling unit which is subject to inspection under this Article, unless the initial inspection is delayed under section 9-252(a), shall take place no later than 90 days after the later of the date that the Department communicates with owner about scheduling the inspection or the date of the written notice setting the date of inspection. However, should the owner of a residential rental dwelling unit which is subject to inspection under this Article, fail to give timely notice as required by section 9-251(b) the Director shall inspect such unit within a reasonable time of becoming aware of such unit. Each residential rental unit for which a certificate of compliance or 48-month certificate of compliance as described in section 9-253 (a) has been issued shall be again inspected within 30 days from the expiration of the certificate or earlier revocation of a 48-month certificate of compliance.

- (e) Prior to expiration of the certificate of compliance or 48-month certificate of compliance, the owner of the residential rental dwelling unit covered thereby shall contact the Department and arrange for an inspection of such unit. Should the date scheduled for inspection be after expiration of the current certificate and more than thirty days from the day on which the owner contacted the Department to schedule inspection, a 30-day temporary certificate of compliance shall be issued. The inspection shall take place no later than 30 days from the date of application for the inspection. Temporary certificates of compliance shall expire upon the earlier of their stated expiration date or the completion of an inspection which finds all violations satisfactorily remedied.
- (f) Provided the owner has given the Department the notice required by section 9-251(b), requests for inspection under section 9-252(d) may be made by telephone, email or fax. The applicable inspection fees shall be paid prior to conducting the inspections required under this Article.

- (a) Unless a residential rental unit in an inspection district is exempted from inspection under this article, or receives a 48-month certificate of compliance, the term of a certificate of compliance issued for any residential rental dwelling unit in an inspection district, shall be for twelve (12) months beginning with the first day of the month next following the month of issuance.
- (b) If an inspection reveals that a residential rental dwelling unit has no disqualifying violations, the Director shall issue a 48-month certificate of compliance for such unit. If an inspection in a multifamily complex reveals that the complex has no disqualifying violations, the Director shall issue a 48-month certificate of compliance for such complex.
- (c) If one or more violations of the Virginia Maintenance Code are found that do not constitute a disqualifying violation, the existence of such non-disqualifying violations shall be noted on the 48-month certificate of compliance together with the date by which such non-disqualifying violations must be remedied, which date shall be determined by the Director and which date shall be reasonable.
- (d) If a follow-up inspection reveals that the owner has failed to remedy the noted violations by the specified date, the Director shall issue a notice of violation, revoke the 48-month certificate of compliance and the unit shall then be subject to annual inspections.
- (e) If a residential rental dwelling unit covered by a 48-month certificate of compliance is found in violation of the Virginia Maintenance Code during the term of such 48-month certificate of compliance, the Director may revoke such 48-month certificate of compliance and such unit shall then become subject to annual inspections.

- (f) If an annual certificate of compliance is issued after the inspection necessitated by the violation of the Virginia Maintenance Code or revocation of the 48-month certificate of compliance, then the residential rental dwelling unit shall again be eligible for a 48-month certificate of compliance only after the annual certificate of compliance has expired and as of the first subsequent annual inspection when no disqualifying violations are found.
- (g) If inspection of a residential rental dwelling unit reveals one or more disqualifying violations, the Director shall not issue a certificate of compliance until the disqualifying violations are satisfactorily remedied. If conditions warrant, however, the Director may require that the residential rental dwelling unit be vacated or remain unoccupied until brought into compliance, pursuant to the authority under Code of Virginia, (1950), as amended, section 36-98, et.seq., the Virginia Uniform Statewide Building Code. Upon compliance the Director shall issue a certificate of compliance.
- (h) Should a residential rental dwelling unit be sold, or the title to the unit be otherwise transferred to another owner during the term of a certificate of compliance or a 48-month certificate of compliance issued for such unit, the term of such certificate shall end as of the last day of the month next following the month of transfer of ownership and the new owner shall contact the Department and arrange for inspection of the unit; provided, however, that if the last inspection of the unit pursuant to this Article occurred during the calendar year of transfer of ownership, the existing certificate shall not expire until the end of such calendar year.
- (i) The issuance of a certificate of compliance or a 48-month certificate of compliance shall not be evidence of a lack of any and all building code violations, and shall not prevent the Director from conducting follow up inspections regarding building code violations in the residential rental unit.

Sec. 9-254. Exemptions.

- (a) The following shall be exempt from the requirements of this Article for the time periods indicated:
  - (1) No inspection of a newly constructed residential rental dwelling unit located in an inspection district shall be required within forty-eight (48) months of the issuance of a certificate of occupancy for such newly constructed unit. If the dwelling unit fails to comply with any one or more provisions of the Virginia Maintenance Code, and any amendments to that code, the Director shall furnish the owner with a written list of specific violations. Failure to list any violation shall not be deemed a waiver of such violation. Upon the completion of all corrections and repairs, the owner shall arrange a reinspection of the residential rental dwelling unit. Reinspection shall be for the purpose of determining compliance by the owner with the written list of specific violations furnished to the owner by the Director. However, if upon reinspection, the Director discovers other violations that were not listed on the written list of specific violations previously furnished to the owner, the Director shall furnish the owner with a supplemental list of violations and shall provide the owner a reasonable opportunity to correct same. This provision, however, shall not preclude the Director from revoking the 48-month certificate of compliance if the subsequently discovered violations are disqualifying violations or if the non-qualifying violations have not been corrected pursuant to section 9-252 and section 9-253.

Sec. 9-256. Occupancy.

- (a) Two hundred and ten (210) days after establishment of any rental inspection district, it shall be unlawful to permit anyone to occupy a residential rental dwelling unit as a tenant within the rental inspection district unless a current certificate of compliance is in force for such unit.

- (a) If a multifamily complex contains more than 10 residential rental dwelling units, in the initial and annual inspections, the Department shall inspect not less than two units and not more than 10 percent (10%) of the residential rental dwelling units.

- (b) If the Director determines upon inspection of the dwelling units in accordance with (a) above that there are within one or more of such units or the building housing same, violations of the Virginia Maintenance Code that affect the safe, decent and sanitary living conditions for the tenants of such multifamily complex, the Director may inspect as many dwelling units as he deems reasonable necessary to assure compliance with the building code, in which case, the fee shall be based upon a charge per dwelling unit inspected.

Sec. 9-258-9-265. Reserved.

Sec. 9-266. Fees.

- (a) There shall be no fee for the initial inspection of each dwelling unit.
- (b) If minor violations are noted and repairs or corrections are deemed necessary by the Director, and a reinspection is required, no additional fee shall be charged for the reinspection.
